

Power of Women's Words

Thursday, March 8, 2012
6:00 PM-8:00 PM

Arizona Historical Society Museum at Papago Park
1300 N. College Ave., Tempe, AZ 85281

Join Phoenix/Scottsdale NOW, the Women's Heritage Trail, the Phoenix Women's Commission and the Arizona Historical Society, in a guest lecture and Q&A session celebrating women's voices through different backgrounds. The session hopes to highlight the past and present achievements of women in Arizona, as well as the interconnections among cultures and the power of women's words.

Confirmed speakers:

- Betty Webb discusses polygamy & other topics
- Stella Pope Duarte discusses Hispanic women
- Jan Cleere discusses 17th and 18th century women in AZ
- Jana Bommersbach discusses Winnie Ruth Judd & other topics
- Laura Tohe discusses Native American women
- Stanlie James discusses Black feminism
- Heidi Osselaer discusses Historical women in Arizona.

After the panel presentation, there will be an audience Q&A and then a reception with food and drink provided by Desert Palms Catering. Meet the authors and purchase signed books.
